

CONTENTS

Introduction: Writing Electronically	1
<hr/>
PART 1: E-MAIL EXCHANGE	9
1: Select the Right Medium to Communicate	11
2: Follow the Rules of E-Mail Etiquette to Create the Proper Image	15
3: Compose Clear, to-the-Point Messages	23
4: Aim to Get Attention for Your Own E-Mail	29
5: Manage High-Volume E-Mail Effectively	33
6: Become Savvy About E-Mail Mechanics	40
7: Make Sure You're Legal	43
<hr/>
PART 2: THE E-WRITING CULTURE	47
8: Counterproductive Communication Habits	49
<hr/>
PART 3: WRITING ON PAPER OR ONLINE	67
9: Step 1: Consider Your Audience for the Proper Approach	71

10: Step 2: Anticipate Special Reader Reactions	77
11: Step 3: Outline Your Message Functionally	80
12: Step 4: Develop the First Draft Quickly	126
<hr/>
PART 4: STEP 5: EDIT FOR CONTENT AND LAYOUT, GRAMMAR, CLARITY, CONCISENESS, AND STYLE	133
13: Edit for Content and Layout	138
14: Edit for Grammar	166
15: Edit for Clarity	230
16: Edit for Conciseness	259
17: Edit for Style	273
<hr/>
PART 5: LET'S GET TECHNICAL	287
18: Guidelines for Document Variations on the MADE Format™	289
• Directives	289
• Transmittals	291
• Requests for Voluntary Action	294
• Negative Responses	297
• Complaints	299
• Apologies	302
• Accomplishment or Status Reports	306
19: Meeting Minutes	312

20: Service and Inspection Reports	318
21: Procedures	320
22: Formal Technical Reports	325
23: Proposals	342
24: Websites	354
A Final Note to the Reader	359
Bibliography	361
APPENDIX A: Grammar Glossary	363
Appendix B: Answers to Spelling Awareness Exercise	369
Acknowledgments	371
Other Resources By Dianna Booher Available from Booher Consultants	373
For More Information	375
Index	377